

MAKING ROOM FOR SOMETHING NEW

HEATHER ACHESON/POST-RECORD

On Monday, construction crews continued the process of razing the 60-year-old Helen Baller Elementary School building, located near 22nd Avenue and Garfield Street in Camas. The site will become a parking lot and play area for the new elementary school building currently under construction next door. Once completed in time for classes this fall, the facility will encompass 68,000 square feet and feature outdoor learning courtyards, a spacious cafeteria and stage, and large classrooms. The $15.4 million project is being funded through a bond passed by voters in February 2007.
